

in a nutshell

YAHOO! NEWS

Research claims deep entrenchment of fossil fuels makes impact of renewables negligible; climate goals not in sight.

DAILY MAIL ONLINE & THE GUARDIAN

Accusations fly over data-use concerns in key climate paper (check out the comments sections...).

CLIMATE

ENVIRONMENTAL CONSERVATION

SCIENCE MAG

Illegal gillnet fishing driving the most endangered marine mammal closer to extinction, halving the population in just one year.

REUTERS

Great Barrier Reef once again in the spotlight as suspected coal spill threatens local waters.

THE GUARDIAN

Should we only conserve species that are advantageous to the human race? Scientists who champion the conservation of parasites say no.

GREEN IDEAS

THE STRAITS TIMES

Bugs trial for mosquito control going well; potentially a new measure alongside traditional solutions.

TODAY ONLINE

Government stress scientific justification to actions in debate on wildlife treatment after recent slew of encounters.

THE STRAITS TIMES

Singapore studying options for carbon taxation amidst international surge in popularity.

CHANNEL NEWSASIA

Increase in water tax for both businesses and households to reflect value of conservation and increasing production costs.

S'PORE

CNET

First Asian country to introduce Vertical Forests: China fights pollution with high rise buildings carrying over 2500 plants, slated for 2018.

NEWS.COM.AU

Hummingbird-sized drones as possible replacements for honey bees' ecosystem function as last resort.

PETAPIXEL

Aspiring wildlife photographer sets up studio at home to recreate animals in their natural environments.

LIGHTER NOTES

Right here Right now

BY OUR OWN BES FRIENDS!

Symposium of Futures Sustainability, 25 March @ Utown Audi 1. Signups for volunteers closing soon on 11 March!

WATER MANAGEMENT TASK FORCE

Save our Water Carnival, 20-24 March @ Utown Plaza.

ENERGY CARTA

Energy Carta will be hosting Changing The Game, an exciting clean energy policy-making game. Sign up as facilitator or participant here!

NUS SAVE

Look out for 2 exciting upcoming events!
1) World Water Day Escape Room Simulation (21-22 Mar @ Utown)
2) NUS Goes Ctrl-Alt-Del: Waste Manager (23-24 Mar @ Central Forum)