Thank you for your dedicated service and commitment to UW-Green Bay and the State of Wisconsin. This year, we are proud to have our three new branch campuses joining in the celebration of Employee Appreciation Week. Members of the Leadership team, along with myself, have been traveling to the branch campuses this week to personally thank you for all you do for our students and our institution. It's great to catch up and visit with you as we bring to a close another year of learning and growing.

Your work touches the lives of many people every day of the year. We are fortunate to have a talented workforce dedicated to advancing UW-Green Bay and the region we serve.

I look forward to seeing many of you tomorrow (Wednesday) at the Faculty and Staff Cookout starting at 11:45 am in the Dick Bennett Gym at the Kress Events Center. Team Building Thursday is a great chance bring out your competitive side. Cheer on staff members as they go head-to-head in Tricycle Races or release some stress by joining join in on Zumba®. There are many more activities planned so please refer to the HR Connect blog post and take part in the festivities as we offer gratitude for a great academic year.
