Summer Undergraduate Psychology Research Experience at Southern Illinois University Carbondale
Sponsored by the American Psychological Association

WHAT? This 8-week paid summer research program for undergraduates will provide the unique opportunity to work within emergent topics in child clinical and pediatric psychology. Students will gain first-hand knowledge by working full time on a targeted research area of their choice. Salary: $12/hour

WHEN? June 3rd—July 26th, 2019

WHO? Students with limited research experience interested in child clinical or pediatric psychology. These research positions may be particularly appealing for students interested in pursuing research that has a medical, developmental, or health-focused emphasis. Applications from students who are members of groups underrepresented in science, including first-generation students, low-income students, and students from other diverse backgrounds are particularly encouraged to apply.

ELIGIBILITY? Students must be enrolled in a US institution and have completed their freshman year (but not yet have received a bachelor’s degree) and have little to no research experience.

HOW TO APPLY? Application information available from Karla Fehr, Ph.D. at kfehr@siu.edu

DEADLINE? Applications will begin to be reviewed on April 22nd, 2019 and will be accepted until all positions are filed.

QUESTIONS? For questions or application information, please contact kfehr@siu.edu.
