American University in Cairo, Egypt
Study Abroad Award

Founded in 1919, AUC is a leading English language, American-accredited institution of higher education and a center of intellectual, social and cultural life of the Arab world. Its University community represents over 60 countries. The University offers 37 undergraduate, 44 master’s and 2 PhD programs rooted in a liberal arts education that encourage students to think critically and find creative solutions to conflicts and challenges facing the region and the world. It also offers a globally-recognized, professional, community-based education in English and arguably the best Arabic language/culture program available.

Award Amounts

A select number of competitive awards will be available for the exchange program with the American University in Cairo.

- Semester (either fall or spring) up to $7,000
- Full Year (both fall and spring) up to $14,000

Awards may be used for expenses incurred because of participation in the program, such as: airfare, room and board, food, insurance/fees, books, travel and transportation while in Egypt.

Awards are contingent upon acceptance to study at AUC

Awards are subject to taxes.

Go to the website lcwa.cofc.edu/student-resources/student-scholarships/ to fill out your application!

All materials must be submitted by the deadline of September 23, 2022 (for spring semester).