Dear President Obama,

I am Jacobo and I go to Dwight school in New York City. I am writing to you because I want to inform you that middle schoolers need recess because everybody needs sports. Students need to move more because then they focus more when they have exercise. I think you can help this movement because sports and exercise is my spark of genius. Please make a move for this issue.

I think you should tell every school in New York to have have recess in middle school. It is really important to move and have a little bit of fun so please take action and make kids have a little bit of fun. It is not fair that lower school gets recess and middle school doesn't.

I think this is the best thing because kids like moving and playing and studying better cause recess is the best thing for kids. They will have a little bit of fun and they will love school more. It is better for everyone!

Sincerely,

Jacobo Bustos
