

My Father Fabian Siegel

My father is a CEO of a company that delivers food to cook at home. He studied economics at the University of Bonn(Germany). He created a company called Marley Spoon where he worked for about 3 years. He has been the CEO for many different companies. I chose him particularly because he has been the most confident and biggest role model ever for me. But unfortunately he has to travel to other countries around the world where his company is also based and delivering food, most often he goes to Berlin across the Atlantic Ocean.

Some stuff about him:

- loves cooking for families
- Plays games with us
- Extremely good at soccer
- Smart
- Funny around me and my brothers
- Never gives up at his work

Bad stuff about him:

- Can't figure out to sew
- Get's nervous on stage
- Some people are scared of him
