The image shows a screenshot of the Google sign-in page. At the top, the Google logo is displayed in its multi-colored font. Below it, the text "Sign in" is centered, followed by "Use your Google Account". A large, empty text input field is positioned below the text, with the placeholder text "Email or phone" at the top left. A red arrow with the text "Click Here" in white points to the right side of this input field. Below the input field, there is a link "Forgot email?". Further down, the text "Not your computer? Use Guest mode to sign in privately." is shown, with a "Learn more" link below it. At the bottom left, there is a "Create account" link, and at the bottom right, there is a blue "Next" button.

If you are having trouble logging in, make sure you are signed out of all other Google accounts. If you share this computer with other people in your house, make sure they are signed out of their Google accounts. If you are still having trouble, double check all the Internet tabs are closed and everyone is logged out of Google. Also, be sure you are in a Chrome browser, rather than Internet Explorer or Firefox.

This is where you add your child's account using their student ID@egusd.net.

You will also be prompted to enter their password.

This is where you sign out of an account before you can sign the child in.

Using the same computer for multiple students can be tricky. You'll need to make sure that you are in the right browser and account.
