

Montag then pumped his legs and ran towards the river. The hounds chasing him with they're deadlocked eyes and fast feet. With the last few steps Montag jumped into the river and washed himself off then put on Fabers old clothes and let his clothes flow through the river. The hounds stopped and followed his clothes down the river. Pg. 10

