

Before Montag could be arrested he burns Captain Beatty and the rest of the firemen so that he and Faber wouldn't be caught. But while doing so he also accidentally burned the earpiece that Faber had made for him. He then puts another earpiece into his ear so that he could hear the news. He was wanted now, and they had even released the hounds on him. He took four books from his backyard and then ran towards another fireman's house and planted some books down. Pg. 8

