

He then ran to Faber's house, there he met Faber one last time. With him Montag took some of Faber's old clothes and also a bottle of whiskey. Then told Faber to burn the places where Montag touched so that the hounds wouldn't smell his scent here. Faber then told Montag to run to the abandoned train tracks since there would be old professors and resistance there. Pg. 9