

New York City Department of Correction Presents:

MOCK INTERVIEW NIGHT

WHAT:

Conduct mock interviews with persons incarcerated in DOC facilities, so they will be better prepared for the job search process upon release.

WHY:

Many individuals in the Department's custody experience great difficulty finding employment upon release. By practicing their job interviewing skills, they will be more likely to succeed, and thereby stay away from drugs and criminal activity.

WHEN:

Training session (required):
Wednesday August 1st
7PM – 9PM – Bulova Corporate Center

MOCK INTERVIEW NIGHT:

Wednesday August 8th
6PM – 9PM – Rikers Island, George Motchan Detention Center

WHAT ARE THE PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS:

You must have: excellent communication skills, experience conducting job interviews or being interviewed for a job, and the ability to provide helpful feedback to individuals who may have limited work experience and / or education.

HOW DO I SIGN UP?

Go to <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/YV3SLL8> and complete the registration form by Friday July 27th 2012.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED!!

This event is sponsored by the George Motchan Detention Center's Programs Office and the Workforce Development Unit of the Programs and Discharge Planning Division. The WD Unit's mission is to prepare persons in the Department's custody to obtain and maintain employment following their release.

For questions or to RSVP if you are unable to utilize survey monkey, please contact Andre Bethea at 718 546 0442 or email to andre.bethea@doc.nyc.gov.