

10H Final Exam Review

EXAM: see SOCS D website for exam time and location

The exam is modeled on the new New York State English Regents Exam which you will take in January 2019 if you continue in honors English. Those of you moving to Regents level English will take the exam in June 2019.

Part I: Multiple Choice

You will be given three pieces to read and analyze. You will then answer a series of multiple choice questions based on the two pieces.

Part II: Argument Essay

You will be given four articles to read and use for a source-based argument essay on a given topic.

Part III: Text Analysis essay

You will perform a close reading of one informational or literary text and write a brief essay that identifies a central idea in the text and analyzes how the author's use of one writing strategy or literary element develops that central idea.

On the day of the test, leave time to revise your essays for clarity, word choice, sentence structure, grammar, and mechanics.
