9.3.1 Methodology
Brainstorming Phase

- List all the people & organizations affected (the stakeholders) and their rights.
- List risks, issues, problems, and consequences, and to whom they pertain.
- List potential benefits. Identify who gets each benefit.
- Cite applicable legal considerations and class terms.
- Identify vague or missing information in the scenario and how that would potentially affect your decision.
Analysis Phase

- List potential options
- Consider the impact of each option on the stakeholders (consequences, risks, benefits, harms, costs)
  - Categorize each potential action as ethically obligatory, prohibited, or acceptable
Synthesis Phase

- Using all of the information, brainstorming and analysis, make the decision(s) regarding how to best address the situation.
