Absolute Poverty and Global Justice: Empirical Data – Moral Theories – Initiatives, edited with Elke Mack, Michael Schramm, and Stephan Klasen (Aldershot: Ashgate 2009).

Contents:

Elke Mack
Introduction: Justice for the Poor – A Global Paradigm in Progress and Dispute

1. Stephan Klasen
   Levels and Trends in Absolute Poverty in the World: What We know and What We don't
2. Michael Ward
   Identifying Absolute Global Poverty in 2005: The Measurement Question
3. Thomas Pogge
   How World Poverty is Measured and Tracked
4. Clemens Sedmak
   Christian Ethics and the Challenge of Absolute Poverty
5. Gerhard Kruip
   'De Iustitia in Mundo' – Global Justice in the Tradition of the Social Teaching of the Catholic Church
6. Johannes Müller and Michael Reder
   Religions and Global Justice: Reflections from an Inter-Cultural and Inter-Religious Perspective
7. Peter Koller
   On the Concept of Global Justice
8. Stefan Gosepath
   Poverty and Responsibility
9. Darrel Moellendorf
   Absolute Poverty and Global Inequality
10. Lukas Meyer
    Sufficientarianism both International and Intergenerational?
11. Elizabeth Ashford
    The Alleged Dichotomy Between Positive and Negative Rights and Duties
12. Barbara Bleisch
    Complicity in Harmful Action: Contributing to World Poverty and Duties of Care
13. Eike Bohlken
    Transnational Political Elites and Their Duties of the Common Good
14. Norbert Anwander
    World Poverty and Moral Free-Riding: The Obligations of Those Who Profit from Global Injustice

15. Thomas Pogge
Medicines for the World: Boosting Innovation without Obstructing Free Access

16. Michael Schramm and Judit Wagner
Not Only ‘a Simple Math Equation’: Business Organisations as Agents for Poverty Reduction

17. Ingo Pies and Stefan Hielscher
The Role of Corporate Citizens in Fighting Poverty: An Ordonomic Approach to Global Justice

18. Johannes Wallacher
Global Justice in the Context of Worldwide Poverty and Climate Change

Else Øyen
Conclusion: The Paradox of Poverty Research: Why is Extreme Poverty Not in Focus?