

Global Tax Fairness

Edited by Thomas Pogge, Yale University, and Krishen Mehta, Tax Justice Network, and, Aspen Institute Business and Society Program

- Practical reform ideas to achieve tax justice
- Brings together contributions that together act as a repository for change
- A guide for policy makers and legislators
- Details the reforms that are needed and how they can be achieved

This book addresses sixteen different reform proposals that are urgently needed to correct the fault lines in the international tax system as it exists today, and which deprive both developing and developed countries of critical tax resources. It offers clear and concrete ideas on how the reforms can be achieved and why they are important for a more just and equitable global system to prevail.
