

CLS SPRING 2018 TECHNOLOGY EVENTS CALENDAR

Semester theme:

Multiliteracies and Technology for Language Teaching

Tuesday, Jan. 23, 1:30-2:30

10-Minute Tech Talks

Talks by Sarab Al Ani, Anna Iacovella and Krystyna Illakowicz. Here we go, 2018!

Topic 1 (February): Adopting a (multi)literacies approach in language teaching: What does it mean, what does it offer?

Thursday, Feb. 15, 12:30-1:30

Brown Bag: "Meet the Author" multiliteracies discussion

Reading selection from A multiliteracies framework for collegiate foreign language teaching and a live Zoom discussion with the author, Center for Advanced Research on Language Acquisition Director Kate Paesani (University of Minnesota)

Tuesday, Feb. 27, (date tentative)

Workshop: Using film in language teaching

Learn how and when to use the Canvas Media Library, the Yale Library's Kanopy collection of streaming films, and the Berkeley Language Center's Library of Foreign Language Film Clips

Topic 2 (March): Integrating a multimodal approach in language teaching: Linguistic, gestural, visual, audio, spatial modes

Wednesday, March 28, (time TBD)

VR field trip to CCAM

Visit Yale's Center for Collaborative Arts & Media on York Street for an experiment in virtual and augmented reality and language learning

Topic 3 (April): Adapting a multiliteracies approach to pedagogical design: Situated Practice, Overt Instruction, Critical Framing, Transformed Practice and beyond

Wednesday, April 18, (time TBD)

Reading group & Meet the Author: Multiliteracies & pedagogical design

Friday, May 4, (time TBD)

Technology tables at CLS Share Fair

Think "tech talks" but at a round table...