

TIME PROJECT

“IN MY OWN TIME”

Priscilla's project is going to be about how chatting has impacted her life. Ever since she started chatting on Facebook it has been a part of her social life; however, it has changed over the years. It is not her perspective on it but her friend's, which with the years have stopped using the app to contact each other. Her thoughts on Facebook chat is now changed, the app is no longer just for friendship talks but for work or business, therefore, making it a more formal way of communication. In conclusion, Priscilla wants to show how social media represent her and how she evolved with it.
