

Begin with clock at 5:00 pm (when people get off work)

• Going to begin with a woman walking into house saying honey I'm home.

The man and woman will greet each other here, but the woman will act like the man.

In this panel the man will announce dinner is ready in an apron with hearis.

This panel will be the husband serving the wife and the wife doing nothing to help but complain.

This scene will be a bigger scene of the table but it will show the disconnect of the husband and wife. I want to show a picture perfect moment that isn't so perfect.
