

I Have Who Has: USII.2

I have flatlands that rise gradually from east to west, land eroded by wind and water, low rainfall, and frequent dust storms.

Who has the invention that provided water for families, crops, and livestock on the plains?

I have windmills.

Who has the city where the automobile industry was located?

I have Detroit.

Who has an area that has common characteristics such as geography, climate, resources, or economic activity?

I have region.

Who has the Southwest?

I have Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Arizona.

Who has perceptions?

I have what people see, believe, and understand.

Who has sod houses?

I have they allowed families to build homes from the soil on the treeless plains.

Who has the definition of noncontiguous?

I have does not have a common border, not touching, or near.

Who has Washington, Oregon, and California?

I have the Pacific region.

Who has the major cities in the Northeast?

I have New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia.

Who has the invention that fenced in farm land and eliminated open range cattle grazing?

I have barbed wire.

Who has natural resources?

I have resources that are found in nature that are not created by humans, such as coal, oil, minerals, good climate, forests, and natural gas.

Who has the noncontiguous states?

I have Alaska and Hawaii.

Who has the adaptation that provided grain to be shipped to markets in the East?

I have wheat farming.
Who has the Rocky Mountain region?

I have Colorado, Utah, Nevada, Montana, Wyoming, and Idaho.
Who has the major cities in the Southwest?

I have San Antonio and Santa Fe.
Who has the invention that shipped raw materials produced on the Great Plains to markets for processing and sale in the East?

I have railroads.
Who has Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania?

I have the Northeast.
Who has the result of new technologies on people's opinion of the Great Plains?

I have they saw it not as a treeless wasteland but as a vast area to be settled.
Who has Chicago, St. Louis, and Detroit?

I have the major cities in the Midwest.
Who has the Southeast region?

I have Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas.
Who has steel plows?

I have they allowed farmers to farm more land and to plant more crops.
Who has the major cities in the Rocky Mountains?

I have Denver and Salt Lake City.
Who has Juneau and Honolulu?

I have the major cities in the noncontiguous states.
Who has beef cattle raising?

I have it provided cattle that were shipped east to factories for processing.
Who has the Midwest?

I have Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, and North Dakota.
Who has the major cities in the Pacific region?

I have San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Seattle.
Who has dry farming?

I have it allowed crops to grow in very dry conditions with little water.
Who has transportation of resources?

I have moving natural resources to eastern factories, moving iron ore deposits to sites of steel mills, and transporting finished products to national markets.
Who has Washington D.C., Atlanta, and New Orleans?

I have the major cities in the Southeast.
Who has natural hazards?

I have floods, dust storms, hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, and volcanoes.
Who has human resources?

I have people who work to produce goods and services.
Who has things used to produce goods and services such as machines, buildings, and money?

I have capital resources.
Who has the physical features of the Great Plains?