

USII.6 I have Who has Vocabulary

I have mass production.

Who has the name for President Roosevelt's program to deal with the Great Depression, provide relief to help Americans, recovery to help the economy, and reform to prevent another depression?

I have the New Deal.

Who has the amendment passed in 1919 that prohibited the manufacture, transportation, sale, and consumption of alcoholic beverages?

I have the 18th Amendment.

Who has the inventor of the first radio signaling system in 1895?

I have Guglielmo Marconi.

Who has the program that provided work for the unemployed, and work for artists, teachers, and musicians?

I have the Works Progress Administration.

Who has the act passed by Congress in 1935 that paid retired people an income, paid by their workers and employers and also provided for unemployment insurance?

I have the Social Security Act.

Who has the New Deal laws that encouraged workers to join unions that represented all workers in a particular industry instead of membership based on a certain craft, like in the American Federation of Labor.

I have the Congress of Industrial Organization.

Who has the inventor of the lightbulb?

I have Thomas Edison.

Who has the amendment that repealed Prohibition in 1933?

I have the 21st Amendment.

Who has novel by F. Scott Fitzgerald that describes the lives of the rich and powerful?

I have The Great Gatsby.

Who has federal agency that gave funds to state agencies to help the poor?

I have the Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

Who has the automobile manufacturer who made autos affordable for Americans?

I have Henry Ford.

Who has the person who was President of RCA and was instrumental in the development of television and broadcasting companies like NBC?

I have David Sarnoff.

Who has the secret places where liquor was consumed?

L. Pennington, Portsmouth Public Schools, 2008

I have speakeasies.

Who has the artist who painted about life in the cities and then became a photographer for the U.S. Farm Administration and portrayed rural poverty?

I have Ben Shahn.

Who has tariff?

I have a tax on imports into the U.S.

Who has the Civilian Conservation Corp?

I have it put young men to work on conservation projects across the U.S.

Who has the method of mass production used by Henry Ford in which each worker or team performed one task as the product moved past them?

I have the moving assembly line.

Who has the movement that wanted to restrict the use of alcoholic beverages?

I have the Temperance Movement.

Who has the novelist who wrote about the "Lost Generation" after WWI and personal dignity?

I have Ernest Hemingway.

Who has welfare state?

I have the government assumes a greater responsibility for the well being of the people.

Who has Rural Electrification Administration?

I have it brought electricity to remote areas.

Who has tourism?

I have traveling to different places for business or pleasure.

Who has people who illegally smuggled alcohol?

I have bootleggers.

Who has the Volstead Act?

I have the law passed in 1919 to enforce prohibition.

Who has the slang term for the 1920's due to the popular form of music?

I have Jazz Age.

Who has the artist known for intense images of workers and industrialization who he painted in "The Bootleggers."

I have Thomas Hart Benton.

Who has the stage of the economic cycle characterized by low economic activity and rising unemployment?

I have depression.

Who has the Tennessee Valley Authority?

L. Pennington, Portsmouth Public Schools, 2008

I have the federal program that provided hydroelectric power and flood control to Tennessee and parts of Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky, and Mississippi.

Who has the act that gave labor unions the right to organize and bargain collectively?

I have the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

Who has the Protestant religious movement concerned with morals and religion that was caused by mass movement of people from rural areas to cities in the early 20th century?

I have the Fundamentalist Movement.

Who has Prohibition?

I have prohibiting the manufacture, transportation, sale, and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Who has William Faulkner?

I have the novelist who wrote about the problems of southern whites and African American in "The Sound and Fury."

Who has the Agricultural Adjustment Act?

I have farm prices were raised by reducing the amount of crops purchased and no crops were raised on land the government rented from farmers.

Who has the Lost Generation?

I have the disillusionment about Progressive ideals that were shattered during WWI and a term used to refer to the generation that came of age during the war.

Who has the economic policy that encourages the government to spend more than it takes in?

I have deficit spending.

Who has the act where manufacturers set limits on how much they would produce so the market would not be flooded, workers could join unions freely, and minimum wages and maximum hours of work were guaranteed?

I have the National Industrial Recovery Act.

Who has the program that allowed farmers to store their crops in government warehouses, the government loaned money to farmers for the stored crops, and when prices rose the farmers could take the crops out of storage to sell and pay back the loans?

I have the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Who has the Civil Works Authority?

I have it found jobs for the unemployed.

Who has the manufacture by machinery of large quantities of goods?