

BROWN

Division of Pre-College and
Summer Undergraduate Programs

Teaching Opportunities

Division of Pre-College and Summer Undergraduate Programs

We invite Brown faculty, staff and graduate students to consider teaching with the Division of Pre-College and Summer Undergraduate programs, serving both high school and undergraduate students.

Teaching with us provides invaluable professional development including opportunities to:

- design one's own course and experiment with new curricular or pedagogical methods
- practice the craft of teaching in a supportive environment
- enhance one's own learning through workshops focused on best practices and effective teaching strategies

And, of course, experience the energizing joy of teaching bright and engaged students who are embracing the challenges of college-level learning.

Interested in learning more?

Attend a virtual Information Session
Wednesday, September 22 at 12:00 p.m. EST

Please email pcsugcourses@brown.edu, if you are unable to attend and want to learn more.

REGISTER HERE ▶

View our 2021 Brown Pre-College courses and descriptions

Note: In 2021, we offered fewer in-person courses due to Covid restrictions but plan to offer robust options in 2022.

VIEW CATALOG ▶

Learn more about our course proposal application

Course proposals submissions for 2022 is now open and are best received prior to October 1, 2021.

VIEW WEBSITE ▶

Program Snapshot

Pre-College:

300+
COURSES

6,000
STUDENTS

FORMAT: Online, Hybrid and In-person

COURSE LENGTH: 1-6 weeks

CREDIT/NON-CREDIT: Non-credit, College-level

AUDIENCE: High school students grades 9-12 from all over the world

Summer Session:

50+
COURSES

500
STUDENTS

FORMAT: Online and In-person

COURSE LENGTH: 7 weeks

CREDIT/NON-CREDIT: Credit

AUDIENCE: Brown and non-Brown undergraduates and advanced high school students from all over the world

BROWN

Division of Pre-College and Summer Undergraduate Programs