

Please join us in welcoming

Colin Huwyler, CEO, Optimus Technologies in 206 Hollister on Thursday, April 19th at 6 p.m.

As CEO, Colin has a hand in everything from customer acquisition to product development; he has been lead engineer on many key components of the Vector technology. Prior to Optimus, Colin was CEO of a renewable fuel company pioneering the use of straight vegetable oil fuel in the US. Colin has over 10 years of industry experience and recently graduated with a degree in Mechanical Engineering at Pitt's Swanson School of Engineering. For fun, Colin enjoys camping trips on his motorcycle.

Center for Transportation, Environment, and Community Health