The most important part of summer reading is that children spend time each day engaged in text. This could look many different ways, but find a routine that works for your family and stick with it! Reading, listening to reading and discussing what you've read are each important parts of the puzzle!

Some of the topics covered in first grade next year will include: Communities then and now, Friendship, Citizenship, Rocks and Minerals, the Solar System, Colonial America, the Human Body, Electricity, the Environment and Ecology. Both fiction and non-fiction books related to these themes are highly encouraged to familiarize your child with the topics. The following list is just a collection of suggestions.
