Thank you for your interest in hosting a Master of Public Health (MPH) student intern at your organization. All MPH students are required to complete a minimum of a 180 hour, practice-based internship as a component of their degree program that is relevant to their area of concentration within the field of Public Health. The following information will provide you with an overview of the internship experience as well as a user guide for InternTrack, our online database for all documents related to the MPH internship experience. Thank you again for your interest in hosting an intern. We look forward to building a partnership between the UAB School of Public Health MPH Program and your organization as we prepare future public health professionals for the workplace.

Kind regards,

Meena Nabavi and Elena Kidd, Internship Coordinators

OVERVIEW OF THE MPH INTERNSHIP

The internship is a 3-credit hour course requirement of all MPH-seeking students. According to the Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH), all graduate professional public health degree students must demonstrate the application of public health concepts through a practice experience that is relevant to the student's area of specialization. This experience is planned, supervised, and evaluated throughout the semester of the internship.

Applied practice experiences may involve governmental, non-governmental, non-profit, industrial and for-profit settings or appropriate university-affiliated settings. To be appropriate for applied practice experience activities, university-affiliated settings must be primarily focused on community engagement, typically with external partners. University health promotion or wellness centers may also be appropriate. Activities meeting the applied practical experience should be mutually beneficial to both the site and the student. Applied practice activities should allow students the opportunity to address a critical public health issue in the community and should not be primarily administrative or research in nature.

INTERNSHIP REQUIREMENTS

In order to register for the internship course, students must have completed all public health core coursework. Usually, this means that students must wait until their 3rd semester to complete the internship. Students must complete a minimum of 180 contact hours with the organization during the semester in which they register for the internship, however you can require the student to complete additional hours. Students cannot start the internship prior to the first day of class, and must have all hours in by the last day of class for that semester.

Learning objectives for the internship must be set based on the MPH foundational and departmental competencies. The following documents are required as part of the planning and evaluation of the internship:

- Internship Description and Agreement
- Student Evaluation (midpoint and final)
- Preceptor Evaluation (midpoint and final)
- Faculty Advisor Midpoint Meeting Confirmation
- Student's Final Paper
- Student's Final Internship Poster and their attendance at internship poster session
- Other Deliverables and Products as determined by the site and preceptor

WHAT TO EXPECT FROM AN MPH INTERN

By the time they begin their internship, our MPH students will have at a minimum completed their first year of coursework. This includes coursework in biostatistics, epidemiology, environmental health sciences, healthcare organization and policy, and health behavior. They will have also taken additional courses in their area of interest.

HOW TO POST AN OPPORTUNITY FOR AN MPH INTERN

Students can apply to internships coordinated through the school, or they can identify their own opportunity. Students are encouraged to first review posted internships coordinated through the school. Opportunities coordinated through the school will be posted in the weekly Get A Handle Student newsletter and on the School of Public Health's Office of Public Health's internship database. To have your internship posted here, please complete the Intern Request Form: <http://www.soph.uab.edu/interntrackv3/intern-request-form>.

RECRUITING TIMELINE

Students can begin an internship at the beginning of any of the three academic semesters (FALL: August – December, SPRING: January – April, SUMMER: May to August).

THE ROLE OF A PRECEPTOR (SITE SUPERVISOR)

A preceptor is expected to:

- Develop a job description along with the student intern before the internship begins.
- Explain the structure and function of the agency.
- If available, provide the student with space within the organization in which to work while doing the practice experience, and include the student in agency and interagency meetings.
- Introduce the student to personnel within the agency and to representatives of other community agencies when relevant.
- Provide direct guidance and supervision of the student during planned internship activities.
- Notify the faculty advisor and internship coordinator if any problem arises.
- Provide a model of professional work habits and attitudes.
- Maintain periodic contact with the faculty supervisor and student intern. Discuss the student's progress at least once midway through the internship.
- Evaluate student performance through InternTrack.

FAQs

How many hours does the student spend at my organization?

Students are required to work at least 180 hours over the semester. This is approximately 13 hours per week. However, you can require the student complete additional hours.

How are hours tracked?

The student is responsible for arranging a method to keep track of the number of hours worked with your organization during their internship. At the end of the semester, you will be asked to verify that the student completed a minimum of 180 hours, or the number of hours agreed upon by the organization and student.

How is a successful internship measured?

At the completion of the internship, the student provides a final product to his or her faculty advisor that documents the experience. Also, the student and preceptor complete a detailed evaluation. Students receive a Pass/No Pass grade based on these products.

What about insurance coverage for interns?

Because students are enrolled for credit during the internship, they are required by UAB to maintain their own health insurance. The Office of Public Health Practice will work with each organization to determine the status of liability and workers compensation coverage.

How likely am I to have a student intern?

Students are ultimately responsible for securing their own internship, based on their discipline of study, and personal preferences and circumstances, so we cannot predict which organizations they will choose. However, we are eager to work with you to increase your chances of getting the right student for your organization.

Do students expect to receive a salary?

Yes. The Financial Aid Office at UAB estimates Birmingham base monthly living expenses to be around $1000; however, the range for stipends or salaries varies widely from organization to organization. If travel and relocation are involved, the costs may be higher. There are organizations which have an intern but are unable to provide a stipend. They normally offer something unique that students cannot find elsewhere.

I'd like to speak with my intern's faculty advisor. How did I find this contact information?

Contact information can be found by opening the Internship Description and Agreement Form, accessible in InternTrack or via your email receipt, sent when the student submitted the document in InternTrack.

For preceptors with a BlazerID, please login at:

http://www.soph.uab.edu/intertrackv3/saml_login using your BlazerID and Password. Once you have done this, please contact the Office of Public Health Practice (ophp@uab.edu) so preceptor access can be added to your account.

For preceptors without a BlazerID and registering for the first time, please follow the instructions below.

Preceptor Registration for Non-UAB Preceptors

- I. Preceptor Registration: Preceptors that are not within the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) system and do not have a BlazerID will need to register and create an account at <https://www.soph.uab.edu/intertrackv3/user/register>. After completing this form, your account will be marked pending until it is reviewed by one of the Internship Coordinators.
 - A. Under the tab, “Create new account”, complete all the required fields.

Welcome DemoPrecept,

Thank you for your support of our MPH internship program through hosting an intern at your organization!

The MPH internship provides an opportunity for students to work in a public health setting in a position that carries responsibility and is of particular interest. The Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH), our accrediting agency, requires that each MPH student be able to demonstrate the application of these concepts through an internship experience that is relevant to his or her area of specialization. The experience must be properly planned, supervised, and evaluated. For more information about the School of Public Health’s Internship program, including the syllabus, please visit the Field Placement website.

Students will be graded on a pass/no pass basis by their faculty advisor, based on the information in the internship description and agreement, student and preceptor midpoint evaluation, student and preceptor final evaluation, student final paper, student final poster and student attendance at the poster session.

General Policies

- An internship must be practice-based, therefore internships primarily research or administrative in nature are not appropriate.
- Students should have completed the core classes before registering for an internship.
- Students are required to complete a minimum of 180 contact hours with your organization, however you can request the students complete additional hours.
- Students cannot start before the first day of classes, and cannot extend past the end of the semester.
- Students must be registered for the internship course prior to beginning their internship.

The student’s name will appear in a table below as soon as they have completed their Internship Description and Agreement form.
