2018–2019
TEACHING & LEARNING EVENTS AT UD

FIRST FRIDAY ROUNDTABLES (FFR)
First Friday of most months during the fall and spring semesters, 3:30–5 p.m., 208 Gore Hall
Monthly discussions about teaching, learning, and assessment practices and issues designed and sponsored through a collaboration of Faculty Commons partners.

2018
9/7 Building Community, even in Your Large Classroom
10/5 Making Group Work Work
11/2 The Procrastinator’s Guide to Canvas

2019
2/8 Documenting Your Teaching for Promotion and Tenure
3/3 Making your course materials affordable for all students
4/5 Supporting Student Study Skills
5/3 To Use Tech in the Class? Or Not to? A panel discussion and App Swap

FACULTY COMMONS BOOK CLUB
12:30–1:30 p.m. at the Faculty Commons, 116 Pearson Hall
Opportunities to discuss books that focus on issues related to teaching and learning in higher education. Drinks and dessert provided, and a free book for some early registrants.

2018
8/21 FYS Common Reader
9/25 Crucial Conversations Tools for Talking When Stakes Are High
11/1 Deep Work: Rules for Focused Success in a Distracted World

2019
TBA

GRADUATE TEACHING AND LEARNING CONVERSATIONS (GTLC)
Graduate students only
2nd Monday of most months, 12:15–1:15 p.m., Faculty Commons, 116 Pearson Hall
Future faculty are invited to discuss pressing classroom issues in a room of their peers. Guided by a faculty or staff teaching mentor, these sessions will offer participants a chance to deeply and meaningfully engage in conversation as well as receive a list of resources to further support their teaching. Soft drinks, coffee, and desserts will be provided.

Winter Institute on Learning
January 31, 2019
How do you make students’ learning visible in your courses? Learn with and from your colleagues about designing and grading engaging, effective assignments as part of this collaborative one-day event.

Summer Institute on Teaching
June 5–6, 2019
This two day event brings instructors from across the university together as part of a larger community of educators. Learn about new instructional strategies with and from instructors across our campus. For more details and to register visit: sites.udel.edu/sit

Course Design Institute (CDI)
January 9–11, 2019
Winter CDI “Reengineering Large Introductory Courses” (ReLIC)
June 11–13, 2019
Summer CDI
Work with a small group of fellow colleagues for three days in an intensive workshop setting to design a new course or redesign an existing course. Due to limited space, the institute is only open to those who have never participated in this program before.

Keep Calm and Teach On (KCTO)
August 21, 2018
A series of just-in-time sessions of more than 30 topics to help you prepare for the upcoming semester

Note: Dates provided are as of printing. Please check cta1.udel.edu for potential changes and to register for events.