Winter Institute on Learning (WIL)

January 28–30, 2020

This year's WIL is by invitation only. By the end of this institute, each participant will have made considerable progress toward the development of an assessment plan for their degree granting program. Utilizing a mix of CTAL guided coaching, individual work-time, and peer feedback, your assessment plan will consist of five parts: 1. Learning goals, 2. Methods, 3. Standards, benchmarks, and tools, 4. Timetable, and 5. "Closing the feedback loop."

Forum on Learning Assessment (FLA)

March 6, 2020

FLA showcases successful program assessment work across the University, including both graduate and undergraduate programs from a variety of disciplines and stages in the assessment process. University of Delaware faculty, staff, and members of the program learning outcomes assessment community are welcome to attend this annual event.

Summer Institute on Teaching (SIT)

June 3–4, 2020

This two day event brings instructors from across the university together as part of a larger community of educators. Learn about new instructional strategies with and from instructors across our campus. For more details and to register visit: sites.udel.edu/sit

Course Design Institute (CDI)

June 9–11, 2020

This annual institute provides you the opportunity to work with a small group of colleagues for three days in an intensive workshop setting to design a new course or redesign an existing course. Due to limited space, the institute is only open to those who have never participated in this program before.
