Faculty Handbook Update Log (September 2022-present)

In October 2022, multiple minor corrections were made to the Handbook, including updating hyperlinks, creating consistent capitalization patterns, making previously approved additions and deletions, making minor corrections and adding Oxford commas.

Revision 10/2022:

3.1.14 Use of Innovative Technology and Online Course Formats

Online course sections shall not be used to replace faculty, and faculty shall not be required to teach online course sections unless an emergency situation as defined by the University of Delaware, local, regional, or national authorities arises which requires that a majority of courses within a specified region temporarily be taught fully online.
