

International Student Orientation Schedule

For New Undergraduate and Graduate International Students

Wednesday, August 21, 2019

Hospitality Space: 9:00 am – 5:00 pm - Perkins East Lounge

Thursday, August 22, 2019

New Student Orientation (mandatory for UNDERGRADUATE students only)

8:30 am – Trabant University Center: Multipurpose Rooms A, B, and C

Friday, August 23, 2019 - Required for all incoming graduate and undergraduate international students

International Student Orientation (mandatory for ALL International Students):

11:00 am – 3:00 pm - Trabant University Center: Multipurpose Rooms A, B, and C

International Coffee Hour

4:00 pm – 6:00 pm – International Coffee Hour sponsored by OISS, Division of Student Life, and Dining Services

International Student Orientation Agenda

11:00 am – 12:00 pm

Mandatory Check-in and Lunch – Dougherty Hall (Trabant Student Center)

Mandatory government check-in with representatives from the Office for International Students and Scholars, who will report your arrival at UD with the U.S. government.

Once you have checked in, join us for lunch before the program begins.

12:00 – 3:00 pm

Orientation Program – Trabant Multipurpose Rooms (A,B,C)

Please note: Critical immigration information will be presented during each section of the program

Welcome Address	Lynn Okagaki, Ph.D., Deputy Provost for Academic Affairs Ravi Ammigan, Ph.D., Executive Director, OISS
Meet the OISS Staff	If OISS is your home away from home, this is your family! Meet the people working hard to make your UD experience the best!
Maintaining Your Status as an International Student	The Office for International Students and Scholars will explain important immigration policies and give advice about how to maintain your legal status in the U.S.
Prepare for Academic Success	Faculty and international students will provide resources and tips for achieving academic success, navigating the classroom and your department and in the University of Delaware.
Physical, Mental and Financial Health	Success depends on health and safety. University doctors, counselors, bankers and students will take you on a virtual tour of the services that will help you stay healthy and safe. Help.
Safety and the Code of Conduct	The UD Code of Conduct is a set of rules for academic honesty and social interactions, including protections for your rights as a student and resident of Newark. This presentation will help you understand the rules, and what to do if you need help. DMV Immigration Alert
OISS Programs & Career Readiness	Connections and networking are keys to success at University of Delaware. OISS student and staff will explain the OISS programs that will help you get connected, make friends and build a network and skills in preparation for your career.

Navigating American Culture and Social Life

Brief overview of what to expect when interacting across cultures and in the United States, and tips for getting involved with the Newark and UD community.