

First Year Center Addendum to Good Conduct Standing.

A student will be deemed not in good conduct standing if the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards finds the student responsible for a violation of University policy.

In most cases, if a student is found responsible for the following charges, they will not be considered in good conduct standing:

- Drug violations
 - If violation includes possession and/or use: not in good conduct standing if within past 1 year
 - If violation includes distribution: not in good conduct standing in any instance
- Repeated alcohol policy violations
 - Not in good conduct standing if violation was within past 1 year
- Assault and/or other issues of violence
 - Not in good conduct standing in any instance
- Vandalism
 - Not in good conduct standing if violation was within past 1 year
- Two or more instances of a Fake ID
 - Not in good conduct standing in any instance

We ask that the First Year Center is notified for any violations of the Academic Integrity policies as we will follow up with the academic divisions to determine if they are in good standing.
