Resources & Returns

Resources Available

Connect with a Librarian
Librarians are on call to help you find the information you need. You can reach them through email or chat seven days a week, during selected hours. You can also schedule an individual consultation with a librarian via phone, email, or video conference.

Online Materials
A wealth of research and academic materials is available remotely. Our ebooks and ejournals, databases and research guides can be accessed for free, 24/7. Log into the proxy server to search our electronic resources. Reach out to a librarian if you need assistance.

Special Collections
Curators from the Julian Edison Department of Special Collections are ready to help you find and explore materials for research. Be sure to check out our online selection of digital projects and collections.
