

September 6, 2017

Dear Students,

We are reaching out to you because you are from the South Florida/Caribbean area. All of us in the Washington University community are concerned by reports of the impending hurricane and the evacuations taking place. Please know that you and your families, friends, and loved ones are in our thoughts.

We know that this is an exceptionally anxious time and it may be difficult to think about your studies, but please know that Washington University is a community of support. Please feel free to reach out to your four-year advisor for assistance. Additionally, counseling is available on the Danforth campus in the Habif Health & Wellness Center; you may call 314.935.6695 and they will arrange for you to speak with someone. If you need any other help, please call the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs at 314.935.4526.

Sincerely,

Georgia Binnington
Associate Dean of Students
Sam Fox School of Design & Visual Arts Science
gbinning@wustl.edu

Chris Kroeger
Associate Dean for Students
School of Engineering & Applied
ckroeger@wustl.edu

Steve Malter
Senior Associate Dean of Undergraduate Programs
Business School
malter@wustl.edu

Jennifer R. Smith
Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences
jensmith@wustl.edu

Lori S. White
Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs
lswite@wustl.edu