Hello and Welcome to the virtual 30th Annual Washington University in St. Louis Pow Wow! Although we cannot be together physically this year, the Kathryn M. Buder Scholars and Pow Wow Committee appreciate your virtual attendance at our event. This year’s Pow Wow honors and celebrates Indigenous communities across Turtle Island and is reflected in our theme which centers on Indigenous Steps to Sovereignty and our tagline is “Indigenize, Decolonize, and Revitalize”. This theme demonstrates the resiliency of Indigenous communities and their efforts to restore Indigenous ways of knowing and being. Utilizing a Seven Generations philosophy, Indigenous communities continue to look towards the sustainability of their traditions and languages for future generations. In doing so, we are embracing the links to our ancestors that keep our indigenous traditions alive. Highlighting these efforts, members of the American Indian Student Association (AISA) created a poster display during the 2019-2020 academic year to bring awareness and appreciation for the cultures, values, ceremonies, and knowledge of Indigenous peoples.

We encourage you to join us in the celebration of American Indian/Alaska Native or Indigenous culture of a Pow Wow, which includes categories of different AI/AN dance styles, art, food, and music. As we continue to navigate our way through the COVID-19 pandemic, the Washington University Pow Wow Committee is focused and dedicated to the safety of all participants. The pandemic has been an adjustment, but it has also shown Indigenous Peoples’ resiliency and innovation to adapt. Please take some time to explore the Buder Center’s website where you can access the following: virtual information booths, the craft of Indigenous artists, utilize educational resources shared by our Pow Wow committee, the purchase of this years’ Pow Wow T-shirts, and our crowdfunding page for donations to support this event.

If you need anything, Committee members will be available for technical support through both days of the Pow Wow. We are excited to host WashU’s first virtual Pow Wow and hope that you have a great experience being part of our 30th Annual Pow Wow!

Head Man Dancer Edmund Blackthunder (Wakan’t’ia)
Hello, my name is Edmund Blackthunder, Oneida/Dakota, My Folks are the late Elijah (Sisseton-Wahpeton Dakota) and Thelma Blackthunder (Oneida). I was born and raised on the Lake Traverse Dakota Reservation, my Dakota name translates to “Eaglestaff”. I currently reside in Oneida, Wisconsin, having earned a Bachelor of Business Degree from Mount Scenario College, I was first employed with University of Wisconsin Green Bay, and now Oneida Nation of Indians of Wisconsin. We often travelled the powwow circuit and was fortunate to meet many friends and relatives, many of whom continue to guide us in a positive way. Dancing Men’s Northern Traditional has provided the opportunity to meet people from all the different tribes throughout powwow country, I’m thankful for all the ones who have encouraged me in some way, to make me feel good and for making it another year. It would be a great honor to help with your powwow in any way possible, Yaw^ko Edmund Blackthunder.

He is a member of the Kiowa Gourd Dance Society and the Omaha Ti-pah Society and is a whistle carrier. He has served as Head Man and Head Gourd Dancer for many different powwow committees and has been a beloved member of the Washington University Powwow’s Head Staff for several years. Host Northern Drum Young Buffalo Horse originated from a group of Lower Sioux and Ojibwe people from Red Wood Falls, Minnesota. Today, the group resides in Oklahoma and is an intertribal group of multiple ages that endeavors to hold their traditions of singing and influence young people to keep in touch with their culture and continue their traditions. Young Buffalo Horse actually participated in the 2013 and 2012 WashU Pow Wows. Recently they participated in the Haskell Welcome Back Pow Wow, the Intertribal Indian Club of Tulsa Pow Wow, and the Cherokee National Holiday Pow Wow. In July, they won second place at a singing contest at the Thunderbird Casino Pow Wow.

Host Southern Drum Ottertrail

was formed in 1992. This intertribal southern style Pow Wow singing group eventually grew to include many other singers from across the U.S. including Mr. Don Neconie and his son, Pete ‘Echohawk’ Neconie, who were instrumental in the teachings of southern plains music. Ottertrail received their name from a suggestion given to them by the late Johnny Lone Chief Hughes, (Otoe, Kaw). The name symbolizes some aspect of southern style plains culture and it indeed represents a very important item of clothing worn by the southern straight dancer, the otter drag or trail. Their first CD, ‘Live at Hunter Mountain ‘95’, helped establish them across the U.S. They have been invited to participate as host drum at many gatherings as well as entering many drum contests all across Pow Wow country. Along the way, they have garnished many winnings, and most importantly, many friendships and relations.

MC Christopher Hill

is a proud citizen of the Muscogee (Creek) Nation, a member of Tukvptce Tribal Town, and is Wind clan. Hill is a graduate of Oklahoma State University and works at the Otoe-Missouria Tribe. Christopher has over 30 years of experience serving as an MC at numerous pow wows, hand games, gourd dances, stomp dances, auctions, Native American Church singings, parades, storytelling events, and award banquets throughout Indian Country. He enjoys singing, working with Native youth, and trading Bigfoot stories.

Arena Director Ron Brave

(Lakota) has been an Arena Director since he was 17 years old in numerous Pow Wow's.
MC Cortney Yarholar (Sac & Fox, Pawnee, Otoe, & Muscogee Creek) is an enrolled member of the Sac & Fox Nation, as well as descendant of Pawnee (Kitkahaki band), Otoe (Owl clan) and Muscogee Creek (Racoon and Deer clans). Maternally, my great grandparents are the late Lee Bass Sr. and Helen Rubideaux-Bass, grandfather the late Lee Bass Jr. My grandmother Sylvestine Shields and step grandfather the late George Shields Sr. are Pawnee. Paternally, my grandparents are Tom and Sally Yarholar (Thlopthlocco). My parents are Clarence and Patricia Yarholar. I am thankful for my mother and father who have always been with encouragement and love. They have demonstrated a healthy relationship and have grown through their faith and commitment serving our savior Jesus Christ through the Methodist Church. I descend from a long line of pow-wow dancers and singers through maternal great grandparents Sidney Moore Sr. and Pearl Peters-Moore. I am blessed with a beautiful, strong, intelligent wife Courtney Tsotigh-Yarholar (Kiowa). Together we have two incredible children, Jude Scout Yarholar, 11 years old and Nora Joy, 6 years old. In 2006, I obtained a Master of Social Work from Washington University in St. Louis where I attended as a Buder Scholar. I currently work as Director of Organizational Development with the Boys and Girls Club of America, Native Services Unit. I'm also the owner and operator of a small consulting company, Evergreen Training & Development LLC. I have had the opportunity to serve American Indian youth and families across Indian country in multiple capacities with several national Technical Assistance Centers focusing on the prevention of suicide by promoting community-based culturally competent children’s mental wellness initiatives. I am honored to have been asked to serve as the MC for the 30th annual Washington University in St. Louis Virtual Pow Wow. I hope it is an enjoyable experience for all. God bless.

Head Judge Alva Fiddler is Mnicoujou Lakota from Eagle Butte, S.D. on the Cheyenne River Sioux reservation. She grew up dancing on the powwow trail with my family since she could walk. She comes from generations of dancers and passes the family traditions on to her Son. A women's Northern Traditional dancer with championships from Gathering of Nation, Denver March, Shakopee Wacipi, World Championship Schemitzen CT, Red Earth, OKC, and many more powwows across the U.S. and Canada. Through her travels, she has gained knowledge about other tribes and dance styles across Indian country, which led to being asked to serve as head judge at Shakopee Wacipi in Prior Lake, MN, Muckleshoot Veteran Powwow, Auburn, WA, ASU Powwow, Tempe, AZ, Stanford University, Palo Alto, CA, and Chumash Powwow, Santa Inez, CA. She continues to travel to powwows while working full time and going to school for a B.S. with a major in Computer Software at University of Arizona-Global Campus.

The Pow Wow Committee held its Logo Competition for the 30th Annual Washington University in St. Louis Pow Wow. Here is the winner:

1st Place

Kassie Kussman (Cherokee)

My artwork is a way to illustrate indigenous ways of knowing. I used objects and designs that are representative of many different tribes from Turtle Island. In the center is a woven basket pattern in medicine wheel colors. The bison and deer represent hunting, the corn for our harvest, and the eagle feathers for ceremony. The flower motif at the top represents our beautiful beadwork. The designs around the sides represent silversmithing skills inspired by overlay jewelry designs. Those elements together make up a pottery vessel that holds all of these important skills. These are all symbols of our indigenous knowledge. By passing this knowledge on to the next generation we are revitalizing our culture and giving them the skills to indigenize and decolonize the world around them.

In 2018, InCEES began developing a relationship with Bloomberg Philanthropies that helped attract support to Washington University to pursue a set of climate-focused initiatives on campus and with the City of St. Louis. From those meetings, the Midwest Climate Summit debuted in Fall 2020. More than 1,000 leaders from higher education (including tribal colleges), non-profit organizations, corporations, and government took part in the Midwest Climate Summit. The series of virtual workshops, presented with support from Bloomberg Philanthropies, was designed to increase ambition for and accelerate climate action in the Midwest. The Summit will reconvene in Fall 2021 and is exploring ways to accelerate climate impacts across the Midwest. Please join the conversation and follow the Summit’s progress at midwestclimatesummit.wustl.edu.
