Buder Center Highlights 2018

About the Buder Center

Originally founded to provide scholarships for American Indian/Alaska Natives, the Buder Center has grown into one of the most respected centers in the nation for the academic advancement and study of American Indian/Alaska Native issues related to Social Work. The Buder Center offers one American Indian course per semester, which Buder Scholars are required to take. Additionally, the Buder Center is charged with developing Buder Scholars into leaders who will serve in Indian Country. We prepare future American Indian/Alaska Native leaders to practice in tribal and urban settings, making significant contribution to the health, wellness and sustained future of Indian Country.
