Syllabus

This is a research seminar. The seminar will discuss some elements of Constitutional History, using the books, Architects of Political Change and Leadership or Chaos.

We shall then consider more formal analysis of political systems, using social choice theory, including Arrow's Impossibility Theorem, the chaos results in voting theory, and then empirical and formal models of elections and coalition government.

There will be detailed analyses of elections in the US and in European countries, as well as other countries like Israel, Turkey, Russia, and Canada. Finally we shall discuss theories of political economy and democratization, using recent work by Acemoglu and Robinson, Przeworski, and Paul Collier and Epstein et al..

Students will be expected to work on a substantial research paper, either empirically or theoretically based. If time permits, there will be an opportunity for students to make a presentation of their work at the end of the semester. This research paper should be approximately 20pp (double spaced) in length.

There will be two required books for the course:

(i) Norman Schofield (2006), Architects of Political Change: Constitutional Quandaries and Social Choice Theory Cambridge UP, 2006. (called AP).

(ii) Norman Schofield, Leadership or Chaos, (LC) manuscript.

AP and LC can also be downloaded from the website.

I have three more books that you can also download from my website

These are a bit more specialized, but may be useful on occasion:

(iii) Norman Schofield and Itai Sened (2006), Multiparty Democracy: Elections and Legislative Politics (MD). Cambridge UP, 2006. (MD).

(iv) Norman Schofield Spatial Model of Politics (SM) , Routledge 2008

(v) Norman Schofield Political Economy of Democracy and Tyranny (PEDA) Oldenbourg (2009).

There are also a number of unpublished papers on this website, about elections in the USA, Russia, Turkey, and Poland, Canada and the USA, which I shall use. These analyses are also in LC. Papers on the US and on authoritarian regimes include

1. Articles by Miller and Schofield (APSR, Political Studies, Perspectives on Politics, AJPS)
2. Article by Schofield and Levinson on Authoritarian regimes in Politics, Philosophy and Economics.
3. Article by Schofield on “Social Orders” from Social Choice and Welfare. This is a kind of review of the book by Douglass North, Barry Weingast and John Wallis on Violence and Social Orders.

We shall also look at work on British elections by Clarke, Sanders, Stewart and Whiteley, on political economy by Acemoglu and Robinson, by Przeworski , and by Paul Collier’s papers on “Wars Guns and Votes” and “The Plundered Planet.”

I shall distribute articles by these authors.
