Training a new generation of quantitative scientists

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN Biostatistics and Data Science
MASTER OF SCIENCE IN Biostatistics

Our unique training programs offer core data science learning in statistical and computational methodologies along with practical training in data analysis of cutting-edge biomedical and genomics research.

18 months* • 42 credit hours

• Study the School of Medicine nationally ranked in the top ten for medical research
• Gain valuable experience solving real-world problems through internships and/or mentored research
• Learn from multidisciplinary faculty in biostatistics, informatics, genetics, medicine and public health

*summer matriculation

Prerequisites
Calculus I
Calculus II
Introduction to Statistics
Computer Programming

Contact us
Email
OHIDS-education@wustl.edu
Web sites.wustl.edu/ohids

Learn more and apply

“\[quote\]
I chose WashU for the School of Medicine’s prestigious reputation. This program provides students with the skills needed to become well-rounded, competitive biostatisticians. The sky is the limit with this degree.\[quote\]"

BRITTANY JACKSON, MS ‘18

Washington University in St. Louis
School of Medicine
Health Information and Data Science

Office of Health Information and Data Science at Washington University School of Medicine • 660 S. Euclid Avenue, Campus Box 8067-0013-05, St. Louis, MO 63110