Student Information

Dissertation After Dark is a new academic program that provides a dedicated study space for students. Every Wednesday and Thursday this December from 5-9 pm the Lieberman Center will be open for students to come make progress on their writing while also working among peers who can offer encouragement and feedback. While the emphasis is on dissertation writing, all graduate and

WUSTL Events

Celebrate the end of the semester with your fellow graduate and professional students on the evening of December 2nd! The evening will start with the all-school exhibition, Parabola: Reverberate, beginning at 6PM at the Des Lee Gallery. The GPC Holiday Party will follow (right down the street) at 9:00PM at Lucas Park Grille. All Washington University graduate and professional students are welcome! Complimentary appetizers and drinks will be served at both events. Visit GPC Holiday Party to RSVP

Traveler's Vehicle Inspections

Too often we all neglect to check our vehicles before taking off on a trip. Here is a great, quick and easy opportunity for members of the WashU community to get their vehicles inspected and help ensure they have a safe trip over the upcoming holidays. On Saturday, December 10th, the Washington University Police and Parking Services Department will sponsor a free traveler's vehicle inspection service to faculty, staff and students.

WUSTL community members can bring their vehicle to the lower level of the Millbrook Garage between 12 and 2:30 p.m. for free inspections of Staff will check tire pressure, fluid levels, wipers, headlights and taillights. Local businesses donate oil and windshield washer fluid to allow us to top off vehicles' fluids.
