

PRECISION LABS

Job Title

Preparatory Chemist

Compensation

To be discussed based on credentials and experience

About Precision Labs

Precision Labs is a licensed reference lab that focuses on urinalysis, primarily through industry Gold Standard LC MS/MS technology. We offer unparalleled scientific expertise, customized integration solutions, and industry leading professionals whom educate and service the needs of physicians, medical practices, and treatment facilities.

Position Description

Full Time

The primary responsibilities of this position are:

- Routine operation of Immunoassay Analyzer and LC MS/MS for prepared samples
- Support the development of drug analysis methods
- Aid in the troubleshooting and documentation of instrumentation
- Prepares reagents and contributes to weekly consumable inventory
- Supports the performance of weekly instrument maintenance
- Participates in internal and external laboratory audits
- Required to follow all safety procedures, policies, and quality assurances

Credentials and Experience Required:

- Minimum of a Bachelor's Degree in Chemistry or related field

Key Competencies:

- Builds strong relationships with peers and cross functionally with colleagues outside of team to encourage continued excellence and performance
- Strong attention to detail and willingness to optimize personal and process efficiency
- Contributes to a learning environment and exhibits eagerness to adapt to change and improvement

Desired but not required

- High throughput sample preparation or extraction experience
- Understanding of and/or experience with different sample preparation techniques