Effective January 1, 2017, the U.S. FDA has implemented new regulations addressing on-farm antibiotic use in feed-animal production. This affects everyone (including 4-H members as youth producers) keeping, owning, and/or raising food-production animals.

Dr. Lane will provide an overview of the FDA’s new regulations and what biosecurity measures one can take to reduce the need for antibiotic use.

Open to all 4-H members, parents, and volunteers.
RSVP by Feb 17th to (440) 834-4656.
