WHAT ARE PEER RECOVERY MENTORS?

HOW DO PEER RECOVERY MENTORS IMPROVE RECOVERY?

A peer recovery mentor is an individual in stable recovery that provides social support to a peer that is establishing or maintaining their recovery. This interaction strengthens both individuals' recovery.

HOW DO MENTORS ASSIST THEIR PEER?

- · Helps the client make recovery goals
- · Provides social support to the client
- · Helps the client make a recovery plan
- · Increases access to substance abuse services
- · Connects the client with community resources like treatment, housing, social services, etc.

HOW ARE MENTORS DIFFERENT THAN A 12-STEP SPONSOR?

- · Mentors focus more on connecting the client to community resources.
- · The mentor does not function within the 12-Step program framework.
- · Unlike the mentor, the sponsor helps the client follow the guidelines of the program.

HOW DOES PEER MENTORSHIP WORK WITH THE CHILD WELFARE SYSTEM (CWS)?

- · The mentor can provide specialized support and information based on knowledge and previous experiences working with substance abuse treatment and the child welfare system.
- · Since the the mentor has experienced the CWS, the mentor may be seen as less adversarial and the client may be receptive to the mentor.
