There are many types of laws and regulations that farmers need to know about to make sure they are not putting their livelihood at risk. How does one keep up on all of these regulations and make sure that their farm is not at risk for litigation? Farmers are already busy keeping up with the production aspect of their business and marketing of their crops and livestock. All farmers and property owners are welcome to attend.

This program is being provided in cooperation with the Hardin County Farm Bureau and Hardin County OSU Extension. The Farm Bureau is having an ice cream social at 6:30 pm at the site with doors opening at 6:00 pm. Farm Bureau members attending the summer social event are asked to RSVP by contacting the Hardin County Farm Bureau at 419-447-3091 or hardin@ofbf.org. People who are interested in the ag law presentation only do not need to pre-register.

TUESDAY, JUNE 26 – 7:30 PM

5 Property Laws for Farmers

Peggy Kirk Hall
Agricultural & Resource Law Program for OSU Extension

Location: Burnison Barn at Hardin County Fairgrounds - 14380 County Road 140 - Kenton
Details: 30 minute talk with questions begins at 7:30 pm
Contact information: Mark Badertscher – 419-674-2297
hardin.osu.edu