Making Hay: From Seeding to Harvesting

Jason Hartschuh - Speaker
Extension Educator, Crawford County

Learn about seed selection, soil preparation, planting, monitoring, growth stages, harvest steps, dry-down, bale sizes, storage tips, quality hay, nutritional content and market value. Take home a Forage Field Guide to use as a reference for producing hay and other forages on your farm. Livestock producers who raise beef, dairy, sheep, goats or keep horses; as well as those who produce and sell hay as a business will benefit from this program.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION: Hay Making Workshop location will be at the Hardin County OSU Extension Office. Please send form with $15 registration fee by Monday, March 27, 2017 to attend.

Name: ____________________________________________________________
Address: _______________________________________________________________________
City, State, Zip: __________________________________________________________
Email: __________________________ Phone: __________________________

1021 W Lima Street, Suite 103
Kenton, OH 43326
$15 registration
419-674-2297
badertscher.4@osu.edu

hardin.osu.edu