Cultivating the Next Leaders and Scholars

The Ohio State University President’s Postdoctoral Scholars Program, supported by the Office of the President, recognizes highly-qualified postdoctoral trainees who will become leaders in their fields. This program supports the scholarly efforts and training of PhDs and terminal degree holders who wish to pursue careers in research and creative inquiry, as well as providing professional development opportunities and faculty mentoring. Salary support, benefits (health insurance, paid leave) and research-related and program travel expenses will be provided by the Office of the President and the scholar’s faculty mentor/sponsor college.
