

GATHER IN THE WONDER

I'm the moon of your childhood,
the moon of your now,

never sleeping,
always keeping watch,

even on the darkest days,
when the world
seems to have lost its way,

even then,
I'm here to remind you
that wonder exists,

it's there on a starlit night,
at the dawn of day,
in the ways the universe
offers grace,

gather in the wonder,
feel the gift of peace.

by Rita Bourland

Photo of the moon by Lisa Berg taken at 4:40 a.m. on Aug. 4, 2020 *at the dawn of day, in the ways the universe offers grace, gather in the wonder and feel the gift of peace. * I'm the moon of your childhood, the moon of your now, never sleeping, always keeping watch, even on the darkest days when the world seems to have lost its way, even then, I'm here to remind you that wonder exists, it's there on a starlit night,*