Course description

Welcome to Introduction to American Politics! This course is an introduction to the institutions, processes, and influences of American government, politics, and political behavior. It is roughly broken into two sections. The first part of the course will focus on political elites, discussing the history and theories of American democracy, as well as its political institutions (Congress, Executive, and Judiciary). In the second half of the course, we will shift gears and focus on mass political behavior and interests. This is a team-based course as it was designed and taught by a team – Professor Jan Box-Steffensmeier, Vanessa Bouche, Matthew Hitt, Emily Lynch, and Lauren Ratliff. You will hear lectures from a variety of instructors, but I will be leading this course for the spring. If you have any questions during the semester, please do not hesitate to contact me.

This course satisfies the Social Sciences, Organizations & Politics GEC requirement. In this course, you will learn about the systematic study of human behavior and cognition; of the structure of human societies, cultures, and institutions; and of the processes by which individuals, groups, and societies interact, communicate, and use human, natural, and economic resources. These goals and the expected learning outcomes will be achieved through lectures, debates, discussions, assignments, and exams throughout the semester.

Course learning outcomes

By the end of this course, students should be able to meet the goals of:

Students understand the systematic study of human behavior and cognition; the structure of human societies, cultures, and institutions; and the processes by which individuals, groups, and societies interact, communicate, and use human, natural, and economic resources.

Organizations and Politics Expected Learning Outcomes

1. Students understand the theories and methods of social scientific inquiry as they are applied to the study of organizations and politics.
2. Students understand the formation and durability of political, economic, and social organizing principles and their differences and similarities across contexts.
3. Students develop abilities to comprehend and assess the nature and values of organizations and politics and their importance in social problem solving and policymaking.

This course will take place, essentially, in two locations: on Carmen & Central Ideas in American Government (eTextbook website).

1. Carmen is OSU's online learning management system [LMS]. You will use Carmen for the instructor's content, for graded reading quizzes, for news and updates, and for access to the gradebook and your progress in the course.
 - a. On the Carmen site menu under Content, you will find the course syllabus, full lectures with PowerPoint slides, and separate corresponding PowerPoint slides on which you can take lecture notes. Weekly “topic videos” will be posted on the Carmen Announcement page, too.
 - b. You will use Carmen to complete your weekly quizzes on the readings. To access the quizzes, simply click on Quizzes, within the menu bar on the left-hand side of the course page. The Quizzes tab is also where the midterm and final examinations will be taken.
 - c. It is important to check the Carmen site daily because I will post important information and reminders in the “Announcement” section on the Carmen page.
2. www.soomopublishing.com/signin is where you will access the online textbook, view/read all the supplementary material for the course (see below), and where you will complete the supplementary quizzes. The Central Ideas in American Government (CIAG) materials are required for this course. Go to <http://soomopublishing.com/signin>, click on “New Student,” and follow all the prompts. There are further instructions available on Carmen. Course policies

Student participation requirements

Because this is a distance-education course, your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of everyone's expected participation:

- Logging in: AT LEAST ONCE PER WEEK
Be sure you are logging in to the course in Carmen each week, including weeks with holidays or weeks with minimal online course activity. (During most weeks you will probably log in many times.) If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.
- Office hours and live sessions: OPTIONAL OR FLEXIBLE
All live, scheduled events for the course, including my office hours, are optional. For live presentations, I will provide a recording that you can watch later. If you are required to discuss an assignment with me, please contact me as soon as possible to set up an appointment for your convenience as well as mine.

Other course policies

Academic integrity policy

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an "excuse" for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by University Rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the University's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

Additional steps for completing the course:

1. Carefully read this syllabus and take the syllabus quiz. The syllabus contains important information about the course, so it is imperative you read through it before the quarter begins. After you carefully review the syllabus, you must take the syllabus quiz on Carmen during the first week of class. You have until Saturday, January 14th at 10pm to complete this quiz. Note: You must complete two quizzes on CARMEN by the end of the first week of class – the syllabus quiz and the first reading quiz. The syllabus quiz grade cannot be dropped (see below for more information).
2. Central Ideas in American Government (CIAG) Pre-Test: You must complete the pre-test, the very first page of the Central Ideas in American Government web text, by Saturday, January 14th, at 10pm. The title of the pre-test is "US Citizenship." You are required to complete this quiz by the deadline. It will be for a completion grade.
3. Do the reading and listen to lectures: To start each week, you should read the assigned chapter(s) for that week. As previously addressed, the e-textbook is located directly on the Central Ideas in American Government (CIAG) website. You should also listen to the full lectures for that week and use the corresponding PowerPoint slides to facilitate note taking on these lectures (both the midterm and final exams will cover material in the PowerPoint lectures). For maximum effectiveness, you should also take notes as you do the readings and listen to the lectures.

I will also post a "topic video" each Sunday on that week's readings. Each topic video is a short 5-10 minute lecture that introduces the material for that week by highlighting many of the main points about the week's topic. The topic video is meant to supplement the full lecture by presenting important concepts in a short animated video to help you understand the material. The link to the topic lecture video will appear on the CARMEN Announcement page. Note: The weekly quizzes and exams will cover material in these short videos.

4. Take quizzes on the reading: After you've completed reading the chapter for the week and watching the full lecture and topic video, you should login to the CARMEN site and take the quiz on that week's material. The quizzes contain 10 multiple-choice questions and are worth approximately 6-8 points each. Quizzes for weekly modules are available only during the week that module is assigned. Quizzes are available starting at 7am Sunday and become unavailable at 10pm Saturday. For example, you must take the first week's quiz on the Constitution anytime between Sunday, January 8th at 7am and Saturday, January 14th at 10pm. After that time, the quiz will be unavailable and you will receive a 0. Also, the quizzes are timed, and you have 15 minutes to complete them. After 15 minutes from the time you start, the quiz will no longer be available to you. That means you should read the book carefully before taking the quiz and you should NOT use your book while taking the quiz. In addition, you should NOT wait until the last minute to take the quiz.

I will drop the TWO lowest quiz grades of the semester (not including the Syllabus Quiz). Because of this, I do not extend deadlines or make exceptions when something goes wrong with the computer at the last minute. I also do not allow make-up quizzes for any reason other than death in the family or a serious medical condition requiring a doctor's note.

Therefore, plan for contingencies and do not wait until the last minute. These Carmen quizzes are worth 35% of your overall grade in the class. Quiz answers to the questions you answered incorrectly will be available on CARMEN for 1 week after the quiz closes for you to study from. To see these answers, re-enter the quiz. More specific information on the Carmen quizzes can be found on CARMEN with the syllabus materials.

5. Watch/read supplementary materials: Every week, there is supplementary material that you must view/read by logging into <http://soomopublishing.com/signin>. The assigned material is located within the required chapters in Central Ideas in American Government (CIAG). Pay close attention to the material as you view or read it because you are required to take quizzes on this material.
6. Take quizzes on supplementary material: The supplementary material is located within each of the Central Ideas in American Government (CIAG) chapters (you should refer to the "Course Schedule" at the end of the syllabus for the list of required quizzes). After viewing or reading the supplementary material at <http://soomopublishing.com/signin>, you must take a multiple-choice quiz on the website that corresponds with that material, which is located directly beside the material. Unlike the quizzes on CARMEN, there is no time limit on these quizzes. You can take as long as you want or need. There is also no mandatory time period within which you have to complete these quizzes.

While you do not need to complete these quizzes the week that module is assigned, I strongly encourage that you watch/read the material and take the quizzes while you are reading the chapters during the week it is assigned in order to keep up and get most out of the class. Do not wait until the last few weeks of the course to complete these quizzes because it will take you a very long time, and some of these questions will appear on your midterm and final exams.

You must complete ALL Central Ideas in American Government (CIAG) assignments by Monday, April 24th at 10pm. Any quizzes you complete past this deadline will NOT count towards your grade (I can view the date and times each quiz is completed) and I do not make exceptions to this rule, so do not go past this deadline. These quizzes are graded and worth 25% of your overall grade and are out of approximately 180 total points. You can view your grade on each assignment in the “Notebook” tool of the web text. More specific information on the CIAG quizzes can be found on CARMEN with the syllabus materials.

7. Take midterm and final exams: You must complete the midterm exam on Monday, March 6th between 7am—10pm. The final exam must be taken on Monday, May 1st between 7am—10pm. If you have any scheduling conflicts for the midterm or final exam, you must let me know by the end of the first week of class. Each exam is worth 20% of your final course grade. Both the midterm and final exams will cover material in the textbook, full lectures and topic videos, and questions from the Central Ideas in American Government (CIAG) supplementary material quizzes. They both consist of 55 multiple-choice questions (very similar to the types of questions on the weekly Carmen quizzes), and you will have 75 minutes to complete them. The midterm will cover Weeks 1-8. The final exam will cover Weeks 9-15 (i.e., the final is not comprehensive). DO NOT wait until the last minute to complete the midterm and final exams because, just like the quizzes, things can go wrong with the computer, and I will not make exceptions based on technical problems that occur at the last minute.
