SHARE YOUR INPUT AT A WATERMAN LISTENING SESSION

What principles should guide operations at Waterman?

What is your vision for the perfect hub for teaching, research, and community engagement in the areas of food, health, agricultural production, and environmental sustainability?

The Future of Waterman Task Force is developing a comprehensive vision for the Waterman Agricultural and Natural Resources Laboratory, and is seeking input from important stakeholders, including college and university faculty and staff, elected officials, neighbors, alumni, commodity groups, friends of the college and more. Register now and let your voice be heard.
