

The 29th Annual Meeting of the Midwest Econometrics Group

The Department of Economics at The Ohio State University is pleased to host the 29th Annual Meeting of the Midwest Econometrics Group (MEG 2019). The main conference will take place October 11–12, 2019 in Columbus, Ohio. Shakeeb Khan, Professor of Economics at Boston College, will deliver the after dinner address on Friday evening. Further details regarding travel, lodging, etc. are available on the conference homepage at <https://u.osu.edu/meg2019/>.

Mentoring Workshop The Department is also pleased to continue the tradition of the Mentoring Workshop for junior female economists. The Workshop will begin on Thursday, October 10 with a networking dinner; sessions will be held from 8 a.m. to noon on Friday, October 11, prior to the start of MEG 2019. The Workshop will provide an opportunity for young women in the profession to interact with established senior mentors, with the goal of helping them start building a substantive, long-lasting intellectual relationship. It will also present potential opportunities for collaboration.

If you are a junior woman (e.g., an advanced graduate student or assistant professor) and want to apply for the Mentoring Workshop, check the appropriate box when submitting your paper using the link below. Details on the Workshop will be provided at <https://u.osu.edu/meg2019/mentoring/>. Please contact Audrey Light (light.20@osu.edu) with questions about the Workshop.

Submission Instructions To submit a paper, visit the following page and upload your paper in PDF format:

<https://u.osu.edu/meg2019/submit/>

To be considered all papers must be submitted by July 21. Acceptance decisions should be made by August 21. Although we will make every effort to have a full and diverse program, please be advised that submission of a paper does not guarantee inclusion into the final program.

We are looking forward to receiving your submissions and welcoming you to Columbus.

Local Organizers: Jason Blevins, Robert de Jong, Lung-Fei Lee (Chair), and Audrey Light (Mentoring Workshop)
