Title IX and Reporting Responsibilities

Responsible employees are required to report all incidents of sexual assault, sexual abuse, sexual harassment, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking (referred to here as “sexual misconduct”) to a Title IX Coordinator even if the person making the report asks them to keep the information confidential. For an overview of the Policy on Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Misconduct and other information related to Title IX, see: studentmanual.uchicago.edu/page/policy-harassment-discrimination-and-sexual-misconduct.

Reporting an incident to a Title IX Coordinator is private. The person who experienced sexual misconduct does not lose control of the process. Individuals may choose not to move forward with disciplinary processes and may still request support services and/or accommodations from a Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinators are here to advise all members of our community on confidentiality, options regarding receiving support services and/or accommodations, and the University's disciplinary processes.

When filing a report with a Title IX Coordinator, include:

- the name of the individual affected by the behavior (if known)
- the name of the alleged perpetrator (if known)
- the names of others involved
- any relevant facts that have been provided, such as date, time, location, and a description of the incident

Responsible Employees should not “investigate” any of the incidents reported to them or make outreach to those alleged to be involved. Please gather the information from the reporting individual and report it immediately to a Title IX Coordinator. Please remember to not disclose any information related to the incident, including names and/or description, to anyone other than a Title IX Coordinator.

Responsible employees include:

- Resident deans
- Some student staff
- Teaching assistants
- Preceptors
- UCPD staff
- University staff

What to Report

The following are examples of behavior that must be reported to a Title IX Coordinator:

- Sexual assault
- Dating violence, domestic violence, stalking
- Treating someone differently on the basis of their gender, gender identity, or sexual orientation
- Unwelcome touching, kissing, hugging, or massaging
- Retaliation
- Behavior that could become so severe or pervasive as to amount to sexual harassment:
  - Unwelcome pressure for a dating, romantic, or intimate relationship
  - Unnecessary references to parts of the body or repeated comments on a person’s appearance
  - Questions about a person’s sex life
  - Remarks about a person’s gender or sexual orientation
  - Sexual innuendos or humor
  - Obscene gestures
  - Sexual graffiti, pictures, or posters
  - Sexually explicit profanity

The University of Chicago Office of the Provost
Equal Opportunity Programs

A community of respect. A culture of consent. A network of support.

University of Chicago students, faculty, and staff cannot thrive unless each is accepted as an autonomous individual and treated without regard to characteristics irrelevant to participation in the life of the University. By addressing sexual misconduct and other forms of discrimination or harassment and ensuring accessibility, the Office of the Provost’s Equal Opportunity Programs supports UChicago community members as they strive for and uphold academic excellence.
How to Respond to Disclosure

1. Listen
   - Do not assume you know what the individual needs, as needs can vary.
   - Disclose your role as a Responsible Employee and inform the individual of your obligation to report and what that means.
   - Do not shut down the conversation. The individual has come to you because they feel comfortable sharing this information with you.

2. Support
   - Ensure that the person is safe.
   - Express empathy.
   - Provide nonjudgmental support.

3. Refer

   Refer the student to a University Title IX Coordinator:

   Bridget Collier
   Associate Provost for Equal Opportunity Programs and Title IX Coordinator for the University 773.834.6367
   bcollier@uchicago.edu
   Report any concerns regarding faculty, other academic appointees, staff, or postdoctoral researchers engaging in or affected by sexual misconduct.

   Shea Wolfe
   Deputy Title IX Coordinator for Students; Director, Office for Sexual Misconduct Prevention and Support 773.702.0438
   swolfe1@uchicago.edu
   Report any concern regarding students engaging in or affected by sexual misconduct.

   WebForm for Disclosures:
   The form can be found at cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?UnivofChicago&layout_id=12 and will route directly to the Title IX Coordinators thereby increasing the response time to the student involved and decreasing the number of phone calls/voicemails/emails that need to be exchanged about a certain situation. The form captures the information the Title IX Coordinators need in order to respond to disclosures with support/resources.

   Refer the student to Confidential Resources:

   Sexual Assault Dean-on-Call
   773.834.HELP
   Available 24/7, 365 days a year
   Can answer questions related to sexual misconduct, including questions about Title IX, University policy and processes (including the University’s disciplinary processes), resources and support services, filing a report with law enforcement, or obtaining medical assistance.

   Student Counseling Service
   773.702.9800
   wellness.uchicago.edu
   A confidential advisor with 40 hours of specialized training regarding sexual misconduct is available.

4. Report

   Regardless of whether the individual will report the incident, Responsible Employees are required to immediately report the incident to the appropriate Title IX Coordinator. (See contact information in step 3 above).

   If a Responsible Employee is also a Campus Security Authority (CSA), Clery Act reportable crimes must be reported to the Department of Safety and Security. More information: safety-security.uchicago.edu/clery_act_reporting/csa_campus_security_authority_reporting/

   If the person who has experienced sexual misconduct is a minor, other reporting may also be required pursuant to the Illinois Abused and Neglected Child Reporting Act. More information:
   provost.uchicago.edu/handbook/clause/mandatory-reporting-suspected-child-abuse-and-neglect

What Happens after Disclosure?

- A Title IX Coordinator will reach out to the individual via email to offer information on support, resources, and remedies.
- A Title IX Coordinator will send a follow-up email to the individual within one week if the individual does not respond to initial communication.
- Individuals are not obligated to respond to or meet with a Title IX Coordinator or engage in this process unless summoned to do so as part of an investigation.
- In some instances, the University may need to move forward with an investigation based on previous information received. Individuals will be notified if this occurs.

Students do not need to participate in the University’s disciplinary processes to request support services and/or accommodations under Title IX. The Title IX process and the University’s disciplinary processes are two distinct and separate processes.
