AEPP: Speaking is a three-week, academic intensive program that gives you linguistic and cultural knowledge above and beyond what is required for admission to UChicago. The speaking projects entail significant research, discussion, and intercultural components. You explore the identity of Chicago as well as the issues it faces, which sets the stage to apply your future academic work in a broader context.

"What I've gained from the AEPP truly goes beyond the classroom. This class was an opportunity to learn about Chicago while sharing ideas and experiences with other graduate students. Now, I feel a lot more comfortable making my voice heard in and outside class."

"The most amazing thing about AEPP is that it emphasizes improving your argumentation while it incorporates different formats of writing into the classwork. We can feel the shift in the voice, words, and tones as we do different writings catering to varied audiences. It is indeed a unique writing experience you can only get in AEPP!"
